

Hello Parents!

Just a reminder of the upcoming 'Parent Night' with renowned motivational speaker Michael Chiasson. We hope you have booked the date and evening off- do not miss out on this great night with amazing insights and information on teens today.

You will learn:

- The top 7 things teens wish their parents knew.
- Insights for how to navigate through the difficult moments.
- Why you will forever be the greatest influence in your kids life.
- How to help your family make the greatest contribution to the community you are a part of.

We have gathered content from students across Canada, and our purpose for this is to help families better connect! The content is real, challenging, raw, and inspiring. Get ready to see and experience what can happen when we begin a conversation that will help us better connect with the people who matter most.

This is a FREE event and open to all parents, family and friends. Please RSVP via the link below (not mandatory). This will help us ensure there is enough room for everyone attending. There will not be childcare available.
